

SEAN FAGAN CRIMINAL DEFENCE LAWYER

SEAN FAGAN
CRIMINAL DEFENCE

Criminal lawyer in Calgary, AB

Are you looking for a Calgary criminal law firm? If you are charged with a crime, you are entitled to bail. But in this country, bail is by no means an absolute right. Every day, people charged with criminal offenses are ordered detained pending trial. You can be held in custody for many months, sometimes years, until your case is finally heard. Often, you will have served most or all of your sentence by the time trial has finished. Unfortunately, when bail is denied, some accused persons will plead guilty just to avoid waiting in custody until trial, despite having good defenses to the charges against them. Even if the Crown does not oppose your release, they may try to impose harsh conditions on your release.

Sean Fagan Criminal Defence Lawyer has had success for clients in securing bail and making condition changes so that they could be released upon completion of their sentence if appropriate conditions were met or if they did not pose a risk to society during their incarceration period.
